See what photographers and artists are saying about it:

“I have not printed on any paper that has been as photographic as Hahnemühle’s Baryta FB paper. Its capability to faithfully reproduce the vast range of tonalities and luminosities, whether in color or black and white, is above and beyond any paper that I have printed on before. ...I love this paper!!”

“...in a league of its own.”

- Steven Katzman, www.stevenkatzmanphotography.com

“This fantastic new paper from Hahnemühle registers sharpness and detail very well with color hue and saturation that are true to the integrity of my files. ...Baryta FB’s archival properties and paper weight are bonuses!”

- Eric Waters, www.ericwatersphotography.com

New Baryta FB from Hahnemühle is a fiber-based, 100% alpha-cellulose paper that features a whiter, smoother, glossier surface than other offerings. Baryta FB is an archival inkjet paper developed for photo-traditionalists who want the authentic look and feel of glossy silver-gelatin prints from the classic darkroom era.

This bright white paper with its ultra-smooth surface texture, glossy coating and substantial 350gsm weight corresponds to classic silver-gelatin Baryta media in both structure and feel. Baryta FB is certified archival grade, ISO standard 9706 and meets the highest standards for image quality and longevity.

“Hahnemühle papers are my preferred papers and I tell anyone willing to listen –best color, fidelity, weight, feel and reproduction.”

- Al Satterwhite, www.alsatterwhite.com
